

GOODBYE AGAIN

1. It's 5 o'clock this morning and the sun is on the rise, there's frosting on the window pane, and sorrow in your eyes.
The stars are fading quietly, the night is nearly gone,
and so you turn away from me, and tears begin to come.

CHORUS: It's goodbye again, I'm sorry to be leaving you, goodbye again, 'cause if you didn't know,
it's goodbye again, and I wish you could tell me,
why do we always fight, when I have to go ?

2. It seems a shame to leave you now, you lay so soft and warm
I long to lay me down again and hold you in my arms.
I long to kiss the tears away, and give you back your smile, but other voices beckon me and for a little while. (CHORUS)

Have to go see some friends of mine, and some that I don't know,
and some who aren't familiar with my name.
It's something that's inside of me, it's not hard to understand,
it's anyone who'll listen to me sing.

3. And if your hours are empty now, who am I to blame
Do you think if I were always here, our love would be same
As it is, the time we have, is worth the time alone, and lying by your side, the greatest peace I've ever known. (CHORUS)